- ❖ Heat Loss Map: Don't forget that homeowners in the neighbourhood between Briar Hill and Lawrence Ave, and many homeowners to the west of Avenue Road, can still access a map displaying the heat loss values for their homes through the MyHEAT link: <https://myheat.ca/toronto> Type in your address and see how your home measures to the criteria used by the City for Heat Loss.
- ❖ Home Energy Loan Program (HELP) The City of Toronto is offering homeowners a low-interest loan for new windows, doors, energy-efficient furnace/air conditioner, insulation and much more, as part of its new and ambitious climate plan. Homeowners can apply for a loan at rates as low as 2%, and repayment of up to 15 years. Payments can be made via installments on your property tax bill, and you can pay off at any time without penalty. Support is available from the HELP team to access up to $2,250 in incentives from utility companies. Once funding is approved, homeowners can hire the contractor of their choice and complete their renovations. For more information, Visit toronto.ca/home-energy-loan or E-Mail homeenergyloan@toronto.ca
- ❖ Toronto Home Resilience Program. For a subsidized price of $95, homeowners receive a flood risk assessment inside & outside their home plus emergency preparedness resources to reduce the risk of basement flooding: <http://toronto.ca/resilientto>
- ❖ We can all do our part in reducing what goes in landfill. There are many used items in good condition that are accepted by not-for-profit organizations, including furniture, housewares, bicycles, electronics, clothing & more. Every year, the City of Toronto manages over 900,000 tonnes of waste.: www.toronto.ca/services-payments/recycling-organics-garbage/waste-reduction/

North Toronto Lawn Bowling & Croquet Club (c. 1912)

At the July final meeting of the Parks and Environment Committee, a financial proposal “Donation of New Tennis Courts” was submitted by the executive of the North Toronto Tennis Club to fund construction of two additional tennis courts. If approved, these two new tennis courts would be built over one of the two lawn bowling and croquet pitches. As two pitches are required, this would result in the demise of the 106-year-old North Toronto Lawn Bowling & Cricket Club.

Unfortunately, there was no public community consultation on the proposal and the staff recommendations report was made public just 18 hours before the Parks and Environment Committee Meeting.

A little history: Mr. Edward B. Stockdale, an early resident of Alexandra Gardens, laid down the original green and small clubhouse in the shallow ravine on his property. Shortly thereafter his neighbour Mr. Thomas Kilgore, along with the male membership of the local Presbyterian Church formed a corporation leasing Mr. Stockdale’s lawn bowling facility for $5.00 a year. In 1921, Edward Stockdale deeded the Club properties to the City of Toronto.

At the July 12, 2018 meeting, the Parks and Environment Committee received deputations from the Tennis Club, and both the Lawn Bowling and Croquet Club and local area residents who spoke in opposition to the proposal. Due to the failure to hold a public consultation meeting, the Committee voted to defer consideration until January 2019, in order for the General Manager of Parks and Environment to consult with members of the Lytton Park community, interested parties and the incoming Ward Councillor. The item was PE29.1 on the Agenda.
